Summer Dreams Into Reality

For my film, I wanted to demonstrate dreams or daydreaming versus reality. For the videos, I'm going to do a summer vibes kind of feel; a mixture of a POV and cinematics. The music I'll be choosing will give off a tropical vibe so it feels like you are in the summer dream. The video should show the beauty and aesthetics of a tropical or summer feel. I'll collide videos of my own recordings from school with videos of stock footage from online and online creators with, of course, credit.

On the opposition of dreaming, it is reality. Near the end of the video, I want to make the first-person point of view of waking up from a bed, waking out of a warm and summery dream. Where we have to go to school, work, and all of that face the fact that life cannot always be about vacation and free time. While this part, I'm not entirely sure how it would go yet (leave for edit)

For my conclusion, the whole video is meant to compare how dreams are. How everything we "want" in summer is there. We simply want free-time and stress worry vacations. I want to display the warmth of a dream versus the "coldness" of reality for the audience. I want to also let people see how much we take granted of time; an example is that we want it to be summer when it is winter but once summer starts we want winter; vice versa. We take the little things for granted.
