Story

In this project, I want to shot a video about my cat from the first perspective. I will add some animation elements in this video. And I will let my cat have a human being. She will act as same as human when host leaving. This idea was inspiring by Toy Story.

The story begins when the host leaves the house. The cat gets up to eat and drink as usual. Then she opens the door from the room to the living room. She begins her adventure. He knocks over the glass on the table and opens the tap Water.

After her troubles, she returned to the room and turned on the host's computer. She searched on Youtube for videos on how to control humans. She even ate snacks and drinks.

After that, she got tired of playing and was ready to sleep. So she had a dream (The specific content is still being conceived). Then the owner went home. She changed back to a cat.
