

3 Video Artist

I don't know a lot of video artists but one of my favorite artists would have to be LouieKnows. LouieKnows mainly does music videos. The one thing I like the most about him is that he interacts with people's movements. He also edits his videos based on what people say, like if you were talking about flying to Paris he uses a green screen type background. If you pay attention to the videos he makes you'll see it has great details, and the transition points are so clean.

The next artist that I like is LewisYouNasty. Just like LouieKnows, LewisYouNasty also interacts with people's movements. You can say they have similar types of styles. One thing that I like about him is some of his videos give you an old school type of vibe. Also one thing I noticed about him is he always shoots videos in the evening.

A local video artist named MD Films415 is another video artist that I like. One thing I like about him is he's from San Francisco, and that's where I'm from. I like how when he shoots his videos he goes all around the city and gets different scenes.
