Three Video Artists

1. Yang Fudong

Yang Fudong was born in Beijing. He is considered one of China's most important contemporary video artists. I appreciate his video art called Seven Intellectuals in a Bamboo Forest and also it is the famous video artwork by Yang Fudong. Though this film, Yang Fudong expressed the personality of people from other parts of the world and their pursuit of a free life.

2. Nam June Paik

Nam June Paik is an American Korean artist. He is considered the founder of video art. He is my favorite video artist. His Megatron matrix impressed me. Smaller videos are played on multiple monitors simultaneously, while larger animated images are displayed across screens, which is very impressive.

3. Tony Oursler

Tony Oursler is an American multimedia and installation artist. I was fortunate to see Tony Oursler's work last semester at the San Jose Museum of Art. His work Slip unconventionally slides human organs onto objects through video projection, making people feel creepy and interesting.
